At SIUT we have spearheaded another new solution to save lives by performing the 1st Paired Kidney Exchange Transplantation.

Meet Asif and his wife Tamseela, and Fehmida and her husband Arif. Asif and Fehmida came to SIUT suffering from end-stage renal failure. Both needed a kidney transplant. Yet, neither one of them could find a compatible donor among their respective families. They had no other option but to become dialysis-dependent for the rest of their lives.

Until, with our Paired Kidney Exchange Transplantation, we were able to offer them an innovative solution while respecting the parameters of family compatibility.

How did we do this?
It turned out that Asif's wife was a match for Fehmida and that Fehmida's husband was a match for Asif. Both families agreed to the exchange and we were able to carry out the transplants.

The result?
Asif and Fehmida are now leading normal lives.

Now thanks to our Paired Kidney Exchange Transplantation we will be able to save the lives of thousands of more people who are suffering from end-stage renal failure.
